| Comments/Historical Information Chapter 766, Statutes of 1991 created the Rail Accident Prevention and Response Fund and the Railroad Accident Prevention and Immediate Deployment Force within the California Environmental Protection Agency. Within this fund is the Hazardous Spill Prevention Account (Fund 0059) where a portion of this fund is deposited. The authority for the fees that were collected from each surface transporter of hazardous materials in California to cover the costs of the programs, equipment, and facilities applicable to each specific transportation mode, and are deposited into this fund became inoperative effective December 31, 1995, although the program mandate continues. This fund cannot be abolished without a change in statute, since there is an account established within the fund. | | |
