LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL'S DIGEST

Bill No.

as introduced, _____.

General Subject: Native American Heritage Commission: powers and duties: fees.

Under existing law, there is in state government a Native American Heritage Commission. Under existing law, the commission is empowered to do certain things, including to identify and catalog places of special religious or social significance to Native Americans, and known graves and cemeteries of Native Americans on private lands. Existing law authorizes the commission to prepare an inventory of Native American sacred places that are located on public lands. Existing law defines "California Native American Tribe" as a tribe located in California and that is on a contact list maintained by the commission, as provided.

This bill would authorize the commission to establish and assess a fee on a person or public or private entity that is reasonably related to the cost of conducting a search of catalogs, inventories, or contact lists, described above, for that person or entity.
