Economic Update

California's unemployment rate remained at a record-low 4.2 percent for the fifth straight month in August. The U.S. unemployment rate dropped to 3.7 percent in September, the lowest it has been since 1969. California personal income for the first half of 2018 grew at a 4.5-percent year-over-year rate.

LABOR MARKET CONDITIONS

- California's unemployment rate remained at the historic low of 4.2 percent in August. There were 803,000 unemployed people—fewer than at any time since 1990. The California labor force participation rate also remained at the historic low of 61.9 percent for the third straight month. Year-over-year labor force growth has averaged 0.5 percent in the first eight months of 2018—compared to 1.1 percent for the same period in 2017.
- California added 44,800 jobs in August—more than 20 percent of all U.S. jobs added in the month. More than 3 million jobs have been added in the state since the recession low point in February 2010. July's job gains were revised down to 34,400 jobs from a 46,700-job gain. Eight of the eleven major industry sectors gained jobs in August, led by educational and health services (18,700); followed by professional and business services (7,700); government (6,100); construction (5,200); trade, transportation, and utilities (4,700); financial activities (1,800); leisure and hospitality (1,200); and information (300). The only sectors that lost jobs in August were manufacturing (800) and mining and logging (100). There was no change in other services jobs compared to the previous month.

BUILDING ACTIVITY

■ California housing units authorized by building permits totaled 106,300 in August (64,500 single-family housing and 41,800 multifamily housing), down 9.9 percent from the previous month and down 8.3 percent from the previous year. This drop is driven by multi-family units, which fell 21.3 percent from the previous month and fell 26.0 percent from the previous year. Permits for single-family units in August were down 0.5 percent from the previous month but up 8.0 percent from August 2017. The first eight months of 2018 average is 121,000 total permits compared to 112,800 for the same period in 2017. Nonresidential building valuation in August fell 20.8 percent from July to an annualized valuation of $25 billion.

REAL ESTATE

■ California statewide median home price of existing single-family homes increased to $596,410 in August, up 0.8 percent from July but below its peak of $602,760 in June. Sales volume in August declined to a seasonally adjusted annualized rate of 399,600 single-family housing units, down 1.8 percent from July and down 6.7 percent from August 2017.
